About This Game

Askutron Quiz Show is a trivia game for up to 8 players that can be played with keyboard and mouse, gamepads or mobile devices. It features fully voiced questions both for official and user-generated questions.

- 10,000+ official questions fully voiced in English and German (more to come)
- Official questions contain 21 categories such as movies, entertainment, science and nature
- Even user-generated questions are read out aloud in up to 18 languages
- Workshop integration allows creating your own quizzes and playing those of other players
- Local and Online Multiplayer: Support for up to 8 gamepads and/or mobile devices (iOS, Android)
- Optional asynchronous online multiplayer ("Quizatars")
- Single-player mode that lets you play against a bot trained by all Askutron players
- 3D graphics; players can choose between various avatars and buzzer sounds

- Party game bringing together 8 players locally or online* (*: online mode is still experimental)
- Steam Cloud support for synchronizing your profiles and custom quizzes
- Play on Windows, Mac and Linux / SteamOS

Play with your friends using gamepads and mobile devices

Askutron Quiz can be played locally with 8 players on one (preferably big) screen. It supports not only most gamepads with Xbox-compatible layouts, but also the original "Buzz!" Playstation 2/3 controllers (Windows/Mac). Don't have 8 gamepads lying around? No problem, just scan the lobby QR code with your phone and play using the Askutron Buzzer app!

Your friends are not in the same room right now? Don't worry, just invite them via Steam or use the online* match making to find other players! (*: Online mode is still experimental)

Asynchronous Online Multiplayer (Quizatars)

Play against your friends even when they are not online! The game remembers every given answer and allows you to play against your friends' "Quizatars" who will answer exactly like they would.

Or Play Alone: You Against the Community

If you'd rather play alone we got you, too! Play against the latest "Communi-tron", an advanced AI that uses sophisticated machine learning algorithms and is trained on input vectors of all Askutron players (Or in layman's terms: The bot picks the answers that on average have been picked most often by players). Find out if you are above the average!

Various Quiz Modes

Currently the game has five selectable quiz modes that can be mixed freely and will be extended in the future.

- Point Hunt - Speed is not important, just select the right answer within 25 seconds to get the points
- Blitz Quiz - The faster you answer, the more points you get
- Cut the Cake - Players are divided into two team and the first answers decides for the team while answers are only gradually revealed
- Viewpoints - Players first answer a opinion question and then have to guess the most popular answer
- Finale - In the finale players get a podium position based on their total score, then every wrong answer can cost you a rank!

Create and share your own quizzes, or play quizzes uploaded by other players

Using the included quiz editor you can create your quiz in any of the supported 18 languages (see below)!

The screenshot shows the Askutron Quiz Editor interface. At the top, it says "Askutron Quiz Editor" and "Create custom quizzes to your own liking." Below this, there's a section titled "Edit quiz" with a "Cancel" button and a "Save Quiz" button. The form includes fields for "Name" (Japan Quiz), "Author" (mform), "Language" (Japanese), and a "Preview" image. There's also a "Public" checkbox for "share on Steam Workshop".

Below the "Edit quiz" section is a "Questions" section. It contains a list of questions with their respective answers and status indicators (checkmarks or X's).

Question	Answer	Status
Google翻訳は日本語で使えますか？	はい	✗
	多分	✓
	いいえ	✗
	こんにちはママ	✗
ランダムな日本語のテキストか。	円です	✓

Using Steam Workshop you can upload your own quizzes for other players and download quizzes created by other players.

Supports up to 18 languages

While the game's UI is not (yet) translated to all languages and our official question packs only cover English and German right now, the game can display and read out aloud custom quizzes created by users in any of these supported languages:

- Danish
- Dutch
- French
- Icelandic
- Italian
- Japanese
- Norwegian
- Polish
- Portugese
- Romanian
- Russian

- Spanish
  - Swedish
  - Turkish
  - Welsh

Played a second round and already had multiple repeat questions. I did not expect this to happen considering the games were only 5 minutes each.. Given the early state of this game, this is really entertaining. I played this with a few friends on one installation using the accompanying Android quiz app. Using the online lobby to find players takes a bit getting used to - just invite using your Steam app if you want to play with Steam friends. Otherwise, you're randomly joining with other players.

There are many quizzes and several modes to try. You can download additional quizzes from the workshop and mix them in, voting questions you (dis)like to rank them for other players. I've once had a few issues with the multiplayer mode but one of the developers reached out and resolved the issue.

I'd recommend this to anyone that likes quizzing with friends since you can try it offline with friends on one machine as well as through the online lobby. I expect things to break here and there when new features are pushed, but developers are responsive and friendly to resolve this.

Pros

- Let you friends join on the same screen (e.g., TV) using their smartphones. Tested this with two other friends and Android devices, however the game claims to support iPhones as well
- Great number of available quizzes in a variety of topics (even for language learning)
- Multiple controller support (however, see my point below for steam controller support)
- Developers are very responsive and friendly upon feedback

Cons

- Multiplayer mode is not intuitive on the first try. Go public and simply invite users to get started.
- Steam controller doesn't work out of the box, wasn't clear to me what controllers the buttons are for (they are for Xbox & PS4 controllers). You need your own custom mapping at the time of this writing.. Gotta be honest, it's a pretty nice Quiz-Game !

Different Game-Modes...A lot of diversified questions...

Computerized Voice-Over (both english and german) ...which is pretty good! ( Even says the Player Names u type in :D )

...works with xbox-controller and keyboard at the same time...Keeps stats to look into !

AAAnd you can create ur own Quiz in the Editor ...or download one of the many great ones made in the Workshop !

The Developer-Team did a nice job on that one !

. This game has potential but is currently let down by some serious flaws. Some good aspects - it's playable, friends can join in easily and it has fully voiced questions. The big drawback currently is that, as the developers acknowledge, neither of them are artists. The gameshow set visual isn't great and contributes little as a concept. The interruptions from the "host" between rounds are annoying, the avatars are few and uninteresting, and the user experience is affected by trying to force the gameshow format. Joining the game and answering the questions is easy, as it should be. Setting up the format of a session, whether rounds are timed and how points are decided, is more clumsy. The host doesn't need to voice everything - if a session consists of three rounds of "point hunt", do we need the host to announce "we are playing point hunt" before every round?. VERY early access. Has a lot of promise though. Needs to streamline the joining process as it took a bit of faff and the environment where this game is going to be played messing around with firewalls and QR codes etc takes away the vibe of a party somewhat.

Repeat questions - some are very difficult questions, some are extremely easy. Hope there's some sort of balancing and "grading" of question difficulty based on right answers. Played it over new years and the winners were the ones who got lucky with their guesses instead of "knowing" something - everyone got the easy questions right.
